Recent developments in superannuation

1. 2018/19 superannuation thresholds

The superannuation contributions caps and various other superannuation thresholds that apply for the current financial year are as follows:

Concessional contributions cap	$25,000
Non concessional contributions cap	$100,000 ¹
Capital Gains Tax (CGT) Cap (lifetime limit)	$1,480,000
Government Co-contributions
Maximum co-contribution ²	$500
Lower threshold	$37,697
Upper threshold (cut off)	$52,697
Superannuation Guarantee (SG) rate ³	9.5%
Low rate cap	$205,000

¹If you were under age 65 on 1 July 2018 and satisfy other conditions you may be able to make larger non-concessional contributions over two or three financial years. Once your total super balance has reached $1.6 million, however, your non-concessional contribution cap will be nil. Your total super balance is assessed as at 30 June of the previous financial year.

²The maximum co-contribution payable is phased out by 3.333 cents for every dollar of total income over the lower threshold, until it reaches zero at the upper threshold.

³The SG rate is currently 9.5% where it will remain until 30 June 2021. From 1 July 2021, the SG rate will increase to 10% and thereafter will increase by 0.5% each financial year until it reaches 12% at 1 July 2025.

2. Catch-up concessional contributions

From 1 July 2018, if an eligible individual contributes less than the concessional contribution cap, the un-used amount may be carried forward for up to five years. This allows additional pre-tax contributions that would have otherwise exceeded the cap.

To be eligible, an individual's total super balance as at 30 June of the previous financial year must be less than $500,000. For individuals with multiple super accounts, the total of all accounts combined must be less than $500,000. For more information go to www.ato.gov.au.

3. First Home Super Saver Scheme (FHSSS)

From 1 July 2018, individuals are able to apply to the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) to withdraw voluntary contributions made to superannuation on or after 1 July 2017 for the purposes of purchasing a first home.

Voluntary contributions include salary sacrifice contributions made with before tax money and personal contributions made with after tax money. These voluntary contributions must be made within your contribution caps.

Voluntary contributions that are accessible under the FHSSS are capped at $15,000 per financial year. The maximum amount that can be released is $30,000 of personal contributions plus an associated deemed earnings amount.

Withholding tax is only charged against eligible concessional (before tax) contributions and deemed earnings that are released. The tax rate will be based on the individual's marginal tax rate less 30%. No tax is withheld from amounts released that pertain to non-concessional contributions.

For more information go to www.ato.gov.au.

4. Downsizer contributions

From 1 July 2018, if you are age 65 or over and satisfy other eligibility conditions, you will be able to contribute up to $300,000 to superannuation from the proceeds of the sale of your main residence.

The main residence must have been owned by you or your spouse for at least 10 years prior to disposal on or after 1 July 2018 and you cannot have made contributions from an earlier disposal of a main residence. Other eligibility conditions will apply.

Once you are satisfied that a contribution qualifies under the rules, the contribution must be made within 90 days of the date of settlement. You will need to notify your superannuation provider in the approved form that the contribution is a downsizer contribution at the time of making the contribution.

Qualifying downsizer contributions are exempt from the contributions caps.

We recommend you seek professional advice about whether your contributions qualify under these rules. For more information go to www.ato.gov.au.

5. Early release under compassionate grounds

From 1 July 2018, the responsibility for assessing the early release of super benefits under compassionate grounds has been transferred from the Department of Human Services (DHS) to the Australian Taxation Office (ATO).

While the eligibility criteria has not changed, in order to access your super under compassionate grounds, you must now apply via the ATO. To see the eligibility criteria and/or make an application go to www.ato.gov.au.

6. Reporting to the Department of Human Services (DHS)

From 1 January 2019, all income stream providers (super and non-super) will be required to electronically report member data to the Department of Human Services (DHS).

For account based and market linked income streams, the electronic reporting of member information to the DHS will be conducted twice yearly, with the first electronic report to be provided by 28 February 2019. For Lifetime, Life expectancy and term income streams, the electronic reporting to DHS will be conducted annually, with the first electronic report to be provided by 28 April 2019.

At the time of writing, no similar legislation has been introduced requiring mandatory reporting of member data directly to the Department of Veterans Affairs (DVA).

Proposed changes to superannuation

The Federal Government announced a number of changes to superannuation in the 2018 Federal Budget. The proposed changes, as described below, are not yet law and are subject to change.

Protecting your super package

The government has proposed the following three measures to apply from 1 July 2019:

1. Insurance in super can only be provided on an 'opt-in' basis for:
 - > members under age 25
 - > inactive accounts where no contributions or rollovers have been made within the last 13 months unless the member has elected to obtain or maintain their insurance cover
 - > accounts with balances below $6,000 (and has never reached $6,000 since 1 April 2019).
2. Any inactive super accounts with balances below $6,000, where no insurance cover is attached, will need to be transferred to the ATO.
3. Capping the total amount of administration, investment fees and prescribed costs to 3% each year for superannuation accounts with balances below $6,000. In addition, exit fees will be banned on all super accounts.

Understanding the risks of investing

No matter which Investment Option you choose to invest in, there will always be some level of investment risk. The variability of returns is known as investment risk. Generally, the higher level of risk you are prepared to accept, the higher the potential returns, or losses.

Risk can be managed and even minimised, but not eliminated and there's always a chance you may lose money on any investments you make. You should be aware of these risks when investing and understand that not all risks are foreseeable.

Some common types of investment risks are outlined in the table below.

RISK TYPE	DESCRIPTION OF RISK
Market risk	Markets are subject to a host of factors, including economic conditions, government regulations, market sentiment, local and international political events, and environmental and technological issues. Market risk may have different impacts on each investment and investment style in that market at different times.
Security specific risk	An investment in a company may be affected by unexpected changes in that company's operations (such as changes in management or loss of a big customer) and business environment.
International investments risk	Investing internationally in one of the major asset classes will give exposure to different or potentially greater risks that are not associated with investing in Australia. International investments may be more affected by political and economic uncertainties, lower regulatory supervision, movements in foreign currency and interest rates, and more volatile, less liquid markets.
Currency risk	For investments in international assets, a rise in the Australian dollar relative to other currencies, may negatively impact investment values and returns.
Interest rate risk	Changes in interest rates can have a direct or indirect impact on the investment value and/or returns of all types of assets. Interest rates may affect a company's cost of borrowings as well as the value of fixed interest securities.
Credit risk	Credit risk refers to a risk of loss arising from the failure of a borrower or other party to a contract to meet its obligations. This may arise in securities such as derivatives, fixed interest securities and mortgage securities.
Liquidity risk	This is the risk that an investment may not be easily converted into cash with little or no loss of capital and minimum delay because of either inadequate market depth or disruptions in the market place. Securities of small companies in particular may, from time-to-time, and especially in falling markets, become less liquid.
Derivative risk	The value of derivatives is linked to the value of the underlying assets and can be highly volatile. Potential gains and losses from derivative transactions can be substantial.

Other important information

Earnings paid to your account

Earnings, in the form of capital growth, income distributions or dividends, received from your investments are credited to your account. Your investment earnings will depend on the performance of the investments you choose and the amount of money invested in each.

Gains and losses are reflected through changes in the value (unit price) of your investments. Distribution payments from your investments are credited to your account when received.

Use of derivative financial instruments

The Accounts are not directly exposed to, or involved in, the use of derivative financial instruments. The investment strategy of the Accounts is not to enter, hold or issue derivative financial instruments for trading purposes. However, the Advance managed investments available through the Accounts are permitted to invest in options, futures and other derivative contracts and may use some hedging to help protect the market value of their investments. This may have a positive or negative effect on the value of these investments.

The International Shares Multi-Blend Fund may seek to add value by actively investing in currencies. As a result, the total currency position of this Fund may vary over time. For the Advance Australian Geared Equity Fund, derivatives are permitted to be used to leverage (or gear) the Fund as an alternative to borrowings. For further information, please refer to the PDS for the relevant managed investment.

- > This Annual Report.

We may also use Investor Online in the future to provide you with any information (including Investor Reports) which may be sent, given or made available to you, under the trust deed or superannuation law.

You will of course also continue to have access to all of this information through your financial adviser and we may still choose to send some or all of this information to you. Closed accounts

Under the trust deed, if an amount is received for a former member (with a closed account), the trustee is able to determine that the member is not entitled to some, or all, of that amount.

Accordingly, the trustee has determined that former members will not be entitled to all amounts less than $50 credited to their closed accounts and these amounts will be applied for the general benefit of all current members of the fund.

Refund of contributions tax as an anti-detriment payment

From 1 July 2017, anti-detriment payments only apply to members who died before 1 July 2017 and the payment is made by 30 June 2019.

An 'anti-detriment' payment represents a refund of contributions tax paid on all contributions made to the fund by the member since joining the Advance Retirement Suite.

This increased amount known as an 'anti-detriment' payment, is payable when a death benefit payment is made to a beneficiary who is a spouse, former spouse or child of the member. Note that an 'anti-detriment' payment cannot be paid if the death benefit is paid as a pension.

Eligible rollover fund

SuperTrace Eligible Rollover Fund (ABN 73 703 878 235) (SuperTrace) is currently our nominated Eligible Rollover Fund. We may transfer your benefits to SuperTrace if the value of your account is less than $2,000 and we are not obliged to forward your balance to the ATO under the unclaimed money laws.

If your benefits are transferred into SuperTrace:

- > you will no longer be a member of the Advance Retirement Suite and any insurance cover you may have held through us will cease on the date of transfer;
- > no further contributions may be made to your account;
- > you will not be able to make contributions to SuperTrace;
- > you will not have any investment choice – the trustee of SuperTrace will nominate the investment strategy that will apply; and
- > the trustee of SuperTrace must ensure that all benefits are subject to its governing rules and the superannuation law, irrespective of the size of the benefit.

Refer to the SuperTrace product disclosure statement for more information on SuperTrace which you should receive shortly after the time that your benefits are transferred.

Professional indemnity insurance

As trustee of the Advance Retirement Suite, BTFM is responsible for the day-to-day administration and ensuring it complies with all relevant laws and the provisions of the trust deed. To cover any potential liabilities, BTFM has taken out professional indemnity insurance.

Temporary residents

A temporary resident is a holder of a temporary visa under the Migration Act 1958.

From 1 April 2009, if you are, or were, a temporary resident and are not an Australian citizen, New Zealand citizen or permanent resident of Australia, or a holder of a retirement visa (Subclass 405 or 410), you can generally only access your preserved super benefits if you become permanently incapacitated, have a terminal medical condition, or have departed Australia permanently and your visa has ceased, or your beneficiaries may access your benefits if you die. You may also be able to access your benefit if you satisfied another condition of release under superannuation law before 1 April 2009.

The Australian Government also requires us to pay temporary residents' unclaimed super to the ATO after at least six months have passed since the later of:

- > the date a temporary resident's visa ceased to be in effect; and
- > the date a temporary resident permanently left Australia.

Applications to claim your benefit can be made using the ATO Departing Australia Superannuation Payment ('DASP') online application system. To access this system and full information regarding DASP procedures and current tax rates visit www.ato.gov.au.

We are permitted under, and rely on, ASIC relief under Class Order CO 09/437 to not notify or provide an exit statement to a non-resident in circumstances where we pay unclaimed superannuation to the ATO under Division 3 of Part 3A of the Superannuation (Unclaimed Money and Lost Members) Act 1999.
